RAESSLER BEGINS INSPECTION TRIPS

Will Call on Boys Who Are Entered In Gazette Corn Contest And Inspect Their Crops.

Noyes Raessler who has had charge of the Gazette corn contest today began his tour of inspection over the county to call upon the boys who are entered in the contest for the purpose of discovering the progress that they have made with their fields and offering any suggestions which he might think of.

The territory to be visited in the northeastern part of the county was visited today. Mr. Raessler has already been over the territory near Beloit. Other sections will be covered as soon as possible. The corn in most parts of the county is in a thriving condition and is just at the stage of tassling out. The ears will form within the next week or so. In the township of Center and Magnolia where the hail storm of a few days ago was especially severe, the corn was badly damaged. In a number of cases the farmers found it wise to plant tobacco in its place. In some fields a cultivator was at once put to work and the crop revived in a surprising manner. Oats and barley in the hall storm section were flattened out beyond the hope of harvest by the usual machinery and were put up as hay as it will be impossible for the grain to mature.

TO BUILD CITY HALL FOR MINERAL POINT

Edward Donehoe of This City Will Erect Public Buildings Costing $50,000.

Contracts for the building of a city hall-library building and a theatre at Mineral Point, Wis., have been let to Edward Donehoe of this city. The theatre, which will consist of a main floor and balcony will be 51x100 ground dimensions, and will seat 700 persons. It will be an attractive building of all fire-proof construction. The city hall-library will have two stories and basement and will be 50x60 ground dimensions. The tower floor will be devoted to library purposes, the second floor to the city offices and council chambers and committee rooms and the basement will be fitted with rest rooms and store rooms. The material to be used will be vitrified brick laid in colored mortar to match with trimmings of local and Bedford stone. The building complete for use will cost $50,000, and must be completed by Sept. 1, 1914.

OBITUARY

Mrs. George W. Allen.
After a lingering illness of about three months, Mrs. George W. Allen passed away yesterday afternoon, at her home on 105 North Pearl street. Mrs. Allen was born in Willow Springs, Lafayette County, Wisconsin, August 28th, 1862. She moved to Janesville in 1889, and has lived here since that time. Her illness was not thought serious at first, although she has been in rather poor health for the past several years. She was taken to the Mercy hospital, in hopes of recovery, but she failed rapidly, and was then taken to her home, where she passed away at 10:30 o'clock, after a brief illness of the week. She leaves to mourn her loss besides a husband, two daughters, Grace and Laurence, both of this city, two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Baxter and Mrs. F. L. Cook, both of Mineral Point, a father, George Noble of this city, and a brother, Walter B. Noble of Mineral Point.

Funeral services were held this morning from the home at nine-thirty. The Reverend Laughlin of the Presbyterian church officiating. The pall bearers were: John Lloyd, Neal McVicar, Will McVicar, Charles Curtis, William Heiser and Herb Grifflay.

The remains were shipped to Mineral Point at ten-thirty this morning for interment. Services will be held there at two o'clock from Mrs. Allen's former home.

Mrs. William Hall.
Funeral services for the late Mrs. William Hall were held this afternoon at two o'clock from the home, 329 South Main street. Rev. Beaton of the Congregational church officiating. The pall bearers were: F. A. Taylor, C. B. Evans, Walter Helms, George Turk, H. Cunningham and H. A. Moesser. Interment was in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mildred Beatrice Tyler.
Mildred Beatrice Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Tyler, who reside at 825 Thomas street, died at the home this morning at one o'clock, after an illness of about one year. She was twelve years and eight months old, and was loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss a father and mother. Funeral will be held from the home Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

Miss Mildred Anderson.

Miss Mildred Anderson, one of the "wood nymphs" exercises rhythmically in the glen at Sharon, Mass., in "Atalanta's Race" and she stoops to pick up the "golden apple," just as we read about in mythology. The little hamlet of Sharon is becoming the focusing center of all eyes since the fair exponent of Lyro-Rhythmic expression began to disport themselves, arrayed in ancient Grecian garb, almost daily in the shadows of the stately trees.

EUGENIC MARRIAGES ARE APPROVED OF

Senate Listens to Arguments Favoring Rigid Law in This Respect.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 24.—Eugenic marriages engrossed the time of the senate for an hour yesterday afternoon. A bill by Senator William L. Richards of Milwaukee requires prospective grooms to undergo an examination by a qualified physician. He read a newspaper dispatch from North Dakota, where a similar law would recently passed, showing that in Grand Forks the applications of fourteen couples were disallowed since July 1.

The bill was passed. Senator Kleen offered an amendment to make the Richards bill applicable only to cities of the first and second classes. It was not taken seriously, and later was withdrawn. It furnished the opportunity, however, for a particularly effective speech by Senator Skogmo of River Falls in favor of this bill as a means of safeguarding lives against transmissible disease. He recounted a pitiful case from his home city. He thought the law should apply alike to both parties to the nuptial agreement.

Sensors Skogmo and Hoyt denounced the sentiments expressed by Senator Kleen and Bishop who declared the bill was an insult to the people of Wisconsin.

Senator Hoyt, himself a physician said: "It is a horrible state of affairs in the state of Wisconsin when it becomes an insult to prevent citizens from becoming afflicted with disease. Today and every day in Wisconsin there is a patient going over the operating tables paying the penalties for which they are not to blame. It is high time, I say, that the people had their day in court on an issue of this kind."

Sensor Skogmo declared the law would elevate public morals and conduce to clean marriages and higher standards in home life. "This is a case where one should not care a continental for constitutionality," he said.

The senate adopted an amendment providing that where dispute arises over the findings of the physicians the state hygienic laboratory shall decide, and providing that action for perjury shall be against a physician who renders false statements and that his license may be revoked. Senators Scott and Zophy also spoke for the bill.

The senate at the same session passed the Gilman bill giving the commissioner of banking wide power in chartering of new banks and requiring certain qualifications of officers of new banks. The vote was nearly unanimous.

FOOTVILLE GIRL WAS MARRIED YESTERDAY

May E. Devins United in Marriage at Evansville to Carl A. Ham of Stoughton.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Footville, July 24.—Miss May E. Devins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Devins of this city, was united in marriage to Carl A. Ham of Stoughton at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at three o'clock yesterday afternoon at the ceremony performed by the Rev. Father McDermott performed the ceremony.

The bride is one of Footville's most popular young ladies and has a wide circle of friends here. Immediately after the ceremony the couple came to Footville where a wedding supper was held. Over fifty guests were present at the wedding feast. The happy young couple left for a short wedding trip and will be at their residence in Stoughton after August first. The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. McCarthy, the bride's grandmother and Miss Devins' aunt, Mrs. J. W. Vandevoort of Chicago; Mrs. Charles Vaughan and daughter, Louise; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lilliscand daughter, Birdie; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lilliscand and daughters, Pearl and Ruby of Stoughton; Mrs. Agnes Erickson and son, Emmer; daughter Hazel, of Beloit; Mrs. John McLean and sister, Clara, of Cottage Grove; George Devins and Mark Timmons of Janesville.

Peculiar Act of Revenge.

A cafe concert artist, Josephine Corneon, was singing at Cherbourg, France, recently, when she saw among the audience a girl who was her rival for the affection of a schoolmaster. "I'll beautify you!" she shouted, and leaping from the stage, dragged the woman outside and threw her into a tank of green paint.

GO TO IT! JUST KISS HER ALL YOU WANT; IT'S VERY BEST THING FOR THE NERVES.

"Kiss Me Not," signs and buttons, worn by babies and others interested in the eugenics movement, will soon be replaced by buttons reading "Kiss Me Quick." We are approaching an era of kissing, and osculation will be taken up again, perhaps, done more than ever before. All the result of an article appearing in a Berlin publication and written by Prof. Adolph Paskau, a noted savant and physiologist.

"Kissing," declares the professor, "instead of being harmful, is highly beneficial in more ways than one. The recent notion that kissing spreads germs and that it is for that reason a dangerous diversion, is all foolishness. As a matter of fact, it soothes the nerves and is very beneficial to persons of a highly sensitive or nervous temperament. The idea that tuberculosis is contracted through the intimate embrace is exceedingly improbable and I am sure at least that this is not true in Germany. The world has struggled along for some ten thousand years or more without abolishing the kiss and I think we can go along as well for that length of while to come. Kissing is as healthful as it is enjoyable."

This news, from as authoritative a source as Professor Paskau will bring joy and elation to many. It cannot be denied that under proper circumstances and favorable surroundings, most of us take great delight in kissing. Of particularly great value is a congenial member of the opposite gender. Professor Paskau, however, will receive the loudest and most resounding cheers from that foolishly happy class of persons, the young in love. And when these glad likings reach them they will pause between clinches and voice a ringing Huzzah for Professor Paskau.

LOCAL PROPERTY ASSESSMENTS IN STATE SHOW INCREASE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

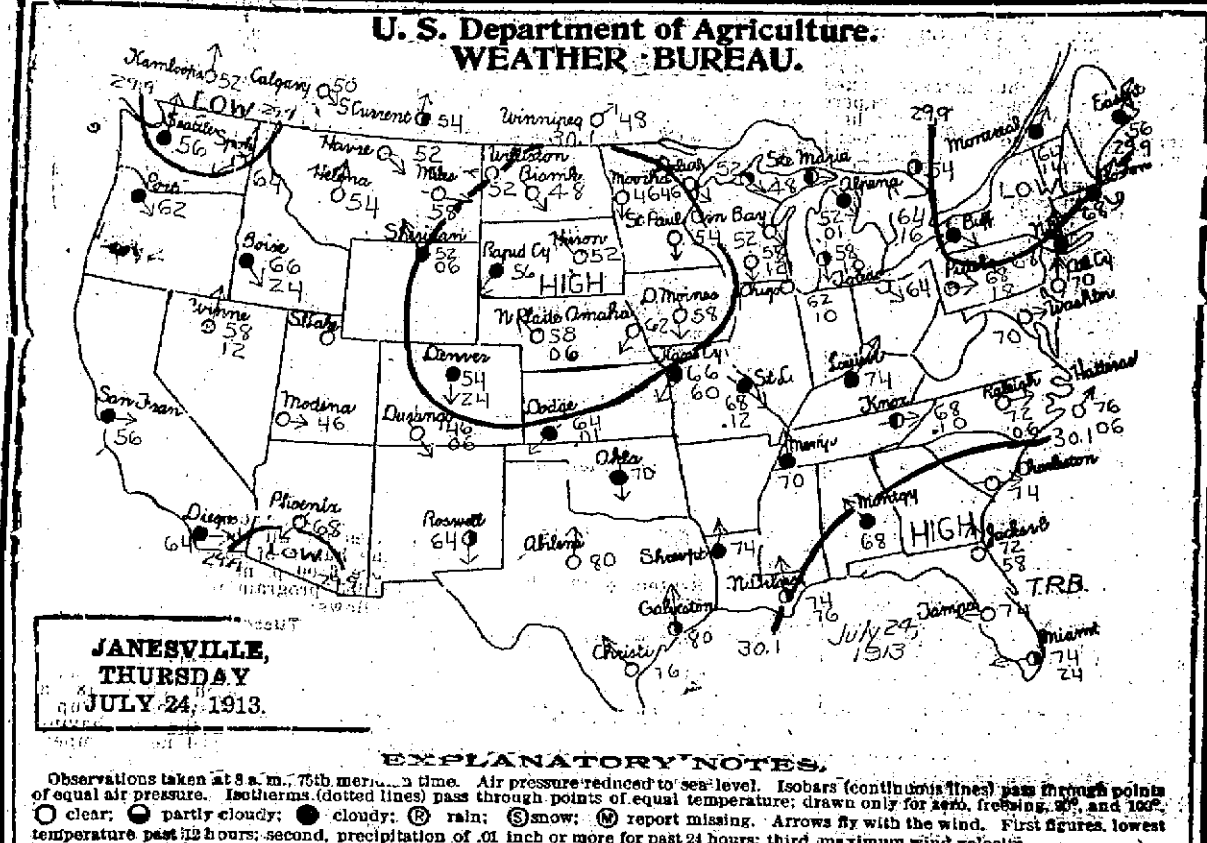

Madison, Wis., June 24.—Local property assessments will be increased in the state from seven to ten percent this year, according to the returns that have been received by the state tax commission. Chairman Nils P. Haugen said today that last year the ratio of local assessment to true value was about 60 percent, but that, through the efforts of the income tax assessors who are assisting the local assessors, that would be increased to nearly 70 percent this year.

Mr. Haugen also predicts a large increase in the amount of income tax to be collected. He says that the corporation returns show that the year 1912 was more prosperous than the year 1911, upon which the first income tax collection was based. The returns are now being checked over by the commissioners, and the secretary, who have assumed the duties of the office formerly performed by K. K. Kennan of Milwaukee before he resigned.

Old Sam Langford has a keen eye for business and never lets anything interfere with the collecting of the nickels. Upon arriving in San Francisco a short while ago from Australia, Sam and his manager fixed up a mill and signed all the papers that same day before hitting the hay. Langford is patched for a four-round go with Charley Miller, the coast lad who made Jess Willard work so hard in a ten round battle several weeks ago. Before leaving Frisco it is likely that Sam will take on Willard for four rounds. He stated upon arriving that he planned to get a match with Jack Johnson in Paris, and if it is possible the arrangements will be completed within a few more days. Sam has always shown a lively interest in getting a chance at Johnson in the ring.

Larry Chappelle, the White Sox recruit from Milwaukee, admits that the first game or so in the big show is rather trying for the youngster who has been touted high and who is anxious to make good. "Believe me, I was glad when the last out was made and the game was over," said Larry after the first game at Chi-ago, Friday. "It was rather hard, too, with Bender pitching and going at his best and me feeling that in order to deliver I ought to bat a homer every time at bat. I knew I could field all right and that my wing was there, but I was nervous about my showing at the bat, because I knew I was being watched. That'll wear off all right in a few more days and then I hope I'll be able to make the folks here think that I'm almost as good as they expected. And that would be doing quite a little."

Rather unusual, this. Old Cy Young's Cleveland Federal League team won a game without any member of the team getting a hit. One run was enough to tip the contest and that one run crossed the plate without the aid of a sacrifice. The run was scored when a Cleveland Fed. player reached first on a pass, was sacrificed to second, went down to third and pitched and crossed the plate on an infield out. Chicago got four hits off Blaser.

Ad Wolgast is going to try to "come back" and regain the lost laurels in his battle with Johnny Dundee, September 9. Wolgast has been itching to try his luck at the light game again and now is greatly pleased that he has a chance. He made all kinds of concessions to Dundee in signing up the papers and it was clear he was eager to put the thing over. The fight will be staged at Vernon by promoter Tom McCarey.

LOCAL GOLFERS MAY ATTEND STATE MEET

Receive Announcements of Program for Tournament to be Held at Kenosha August 5 to 9.

Members of the Wisconsin Golf club have received announcement of the program for the annual state tournament which will be held on the links of the Kenosha Country Club, August 5 to 9. While Janesville's delegation of players has not been picked it is probable that there will be a number of local men entered in the play. Entries for the state championship and the other events on the big program will be open to the members of the seventeen golf clubs in the state and it is expected that the entry list will be the largest ever known at a state tournament in Wisconsin. Many new features have been added to the program this year and the directors of the association have made an effort to provide the greatest week of sport ever offered for Wisconsin followers of the ancient Scotch game. The links of the Kenosha club have been in charge of experts since the opening of the present season and they will be in perfect shape for the visit of the state golfers. The program for the tourney is the longest ever issued. It will start with the competition for the famous Yule trophy on August 5th and end with the final round for the state championship on the afternoon of August 9th. Entries for all the events are to be in the hands of the secretary on or before 6:30 p. m. August 4th. The detailed program for the week's events follows:

PLAN TRACK MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Two Playgrounds Meet in Track Events Friday Afternoon.—Large Attendance.

The dual track meet between the two playgrounds of this city is scheduled to take place Friday afternoon at the Webster grounds.

Keen competition has developed and the rivalry between the two grounds will tend to make the events close and interesting. Nine events will be run off and these include the broad, stand and running jump, chin-up, rope climbing and short dashes. The two directors, Mr. Finley at the Jefferson and Mr. Law at the Webster, have put the children through the various events until they have become thoroughly acquainted with them and close races are anticipated. This field meet will be one of the first ever held in this city for children of that age and a track meet for the older boys is being planned.

A new feature was introduced at the Webster grounds recently when Mr. Law took all the boys down to a safe spot in the river and gave them instructions in swimming. It is planned to give the boys lessons in swimming every other morning.

The interest in volleyball has not diminished since the opening of the school and all students are fast becoming experts at the game. The girls' volleyball teams at the Webster school hold daily contests and a picked team representing the two playgrounds will be scheduled.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW HAS MOST RIGID PROVISIONS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 24.—That the present statute relating to Sunday closing makes it unlawful to sell groceries, meat or meat products in this state is the opinion of Attorney General Walter Owen, in a letter to Senator William L. Richards of Milwaukee today. The opinion is given upon a bill introduced in the senate by Senator A. E. Martin of Milwaukee which attacks a paragraph at the close of the general Sunday closing law declaring that the operation of a meat shop or grocery store in the city of Milwaukee shall not be deemed work of charity and necessity.

"It is my impression, however, although upon this I express no definite opinion," says the attorney general, "that it is unlawful, under the provisions of this statute, if this be true, then the only effect of the latter amendment, if it have any effect at all is to operate as a legislative construction of the law so that the court might hold that the addition of this amendment reveals the belief on the part of the legislature that without such amendment it would be lawful to transact such business in this state."

CHANGE IN LAWS AS TO PERSONAL INJURIES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 21.—Governor McAdams has signed the "Toukias" bill which provides that all personal injury accidents by railroad are to be treated as if the employee had been guilty of contributory negligence shall not bar a recovery, but that the damages shall be administered by the jury in proportion to the amount of negligence attributable to such employee. This enacts the federal law on the subject and makes both the state and national law uniform. The bill also signed the statute which provides that any bequests or gifts made within six years of the death of a person shall be construed to mean in contemplation of death and shall be taxed under the inheritance tax law.

The Teasdale bill permitting twenty high schools of the state to establish courses in agriculture and domestic science and giving an aggregate state aid of $8,000 to carry out the purpose of the act has been approved by the governor and published.

First Pictures of Binghamton Fire

These pictures were snapped at the Binghamton Overall factory, in which some sixty persons, mostly women and girls, lost their lives. The property loss is placed at $200,000. The smell of smoke was hardly noticed before the flames pulled up the elevator shaft and leaped along the floors and ceilings. In an instant the building was a roaring mass. Fire burst from the windows so fiercely that in an instant trees on the river bank thirty feet away, were scorched. Firemen, when they arrived, were unable to get within 200 feet of the burning building.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A FAIR TRIAL.

FOR MANY years a neighbor of mine had not been able to sleep after unless she shut out the light by closing all the window blinds in her chamber.

There are five windows in the room, which means that shutting the blinds is quite a task. You know what a mountain even such a mole hill can look at night when you are very tired and want to crawl into bed without any preliminaries. Moreover, in hot weather closing the blinds shuts out much needed air.

Within the last two weeks my neighbor has done away with all this inconvenience. For she has found that by tying a black silk handkerchief over her eyes she can shut out the light just as effectively as by closing those five pairs of blinds.

Why hasn't she done this before? That's just the point and reason d'être of my tale. Again and again we have suggested it. Again and again a friend of hers who has used this method for years has urged her to try one of its handkerchiefs, and every time she has answered, "Oh no, that wouldn't do for me. I know I shouldn't like it, it would make me too hot."

Two weeks ago the window blinds were taken off in order to have the house painted. And being thus forced into it, she actually did try the handkerchief.

How many opportunities are thrown away, how how efficiency is lost, how much happiness is missed because people have this foolish habit of condemning anything which is new to them entirely without a trial.

We all believe in the theory of a fair trial, but many of us fail to live by it. Sometimes circumstances, such as in this case, fairly force us into making such a trial and convert us willy nilly, but more often we go through life obstinately insisting, "I know I shouldn't like it. That wouldn't help me." "It wouldn't do any good for me to try it," and so forth and so on.

The other day I spoke of a certain magazine to a high-brow neighbor of mine. "I don't like it," she said with the high-brow equivalent of a turned-up nose. Investigation proved that she disliked the looks of the cover and had never read the magazine.

Another woman told me she disapproved of a certain author, and on my asking her on which books she based that condemnation, I found that she had read a single short story of his written ten years ago.

Such advance knowledge is always very expensive. It puts the man who possesses it hopelessly behind the man with an open mind, the man who does not condemn without a fair trial.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am seventeen years old. I am going with a boy twenty years old. I have been going with him about ten months and he says he doesn't go with any other girl. He has never told me he loved me. Do you think he cares anything for me?

I am really in love with a young man I met about a year ago and he wants to go with me. I think more of him than I do the one I am going with and he has told his friends that he loves me and that he will never love any other girl. Mother and father do not like him as well as they like the other young man. Please advise me which one to go with. They are both nice boys and from nice families.

BROWN HAIR. (1) I should judge that he is rather fond of you. (2) If the other man loves you and wants to marry you, its up to him to come forward and propose to you as he should. Otherwise, just play the waiting game and be nice to both of them. Better weigh carefully what your parents think about both of them. They are apt to be more sensible in their reasons than you are, you know.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) How can I cause a young man to notice me more without seeming to "run after him." I am deeply in love. I have heard that he admires me very much, but he doesn't show it when he is around.

(2) Do you think he cares for me? He likes my father very much but when we meet he seems agitated. Is it all right for a girl of eighteen to take buggy rides with a young man if she has her father's consent? (4) Do you think there is harm in going to shows? I have no mother to ask these questions, so I write you.

You can be very pleasant to him and make him feel comfortable in your company. Think of him as a nice big brother and don't show him by your actions that you are in love. He may only have a friendly interest in you, and would be scared away if he thought you looked upon him as a possible lover.

(2) He may be a bit bashful. Give him time and he'll be sure to let you know it. (3) If he knows he is a respectable young man and if she comes home at a reasonable hour. (4) I see no harm in good shows, my dear.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have kept steady company with a young man almost two years. We have been engaged six months. Lately he seems to be in doubt whether he loves me like he should or not. I said if he wished we would break our engagement. He said he could not give me up. He knows I love him. He says he doesn't want to break off our engagement, or do you think he really loves me?

DAILY READER. Maybe you want him to be too demonstrative. A man gets tired of displaying his affection all the time. Perhaps that is the only trouble. When he said he could not give you up, that ought to satisfy you.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DEPARTMENT. Remnants of fish left over after a good piece has been served are not the same thing as scraps and ought not to be treated by similar methods. Far too frequently a cook is indifferent to the value of the material contained in her larder. She will send a piece of salmon, trout or other expensive fish to the luncheon or supper table without so much as trimming it.

Even a small remnant of good fish may be made into a charming morsel if it is daintily freed from all gristle, bones or unsightly pieces that have been torn off in the process of carving. Some cooks merely make a mayonnaise sauce and pour it over the salmon. Many people dislike this method exceedingly because they prefer actually to see what is placed on the table. Just enough mayonnaise to lie on the top of a neat helping of the fish is quite sufficient, and the clever manipulator of culinary materials will bind her sauce with a little aspic.

Never Chop Best Pieces. This makes it slightly firm and more appetizing in appearance. Instead of dressing with a mayonnaise, the expert often sends pieces of cold trout or salmon to take "nappe," that is, coated with a thin aspic and decorated with tomato daintily cut, parsley, cold peas, cucumber slices or any other fanciful trifle.

No one who understands the value of food would ever chop or create the best pieces of expensive fish. A good plan is to marinate them, drain on a cloth and place them into molds lined with semi-set aspic. These molds must be decorated with white of egg, carrot, cucumber sliced with the green skin on, and any other pretty bits of vegetable. A special cutter should always be used to get nice effects, and it is a good plan to peel tomatoes by dipping them into boiling water for a minute or two, when the skin will come off quite easily. The recipes provided specially deal with cold dishes which are useful for many informal meals as well as for picnics. Haddock creams suggest a good way of using remnants from the breakfast table, and, although they may be made with what is left of our other kinds of fish, the slightly smoked taste of the haddock gives a fine flavor.

French Fish Mold, Cold. Flake rather finely the remains of any kind of cold fish (about three-fourths pound), such as salmon, trout, hot or cold, and free from skin and bone. Next melt about a gill of aspic jelly and stir with like-warm water to half a pint of fairly firm and unseasoned mayonnaise. Line an oval or round flat tin dish with a layer of aspic, decorate the bottom with thin slices of cooked cold tongue, shrimps and hard-boiled white of egg, then pour over a layer of aspic mayonnaise; upon this put a layer of fish and slices of hard-boiled eggs; continue thus till the mold is filled. Place the mold on ice to set.

To serve, immerse the mold in hot water for a few seconds and turn out quickly on to an oval or round dish. Garnish the dish neatly with finely shredded lettuce hearts and cutlets cut from set aspic and fancifully cut slices of beetroot.

Take some cold fish—salmon, trout, hot or cold, previously freed from skin and bones, flake it finely and mix it carefully with well-seasoned mayonnaise sauce, with which some finely chopped capers have been blended. Cut out the center of six or eight size-sized ripe tomatoes, squeeze out carefully the seeds as well as some of the juice and place them on the ice for an hour or till required for table. To serve, fill the prepared tomatoes with the prepared fish mixture. Dish up neatly and garnish the top of each tomato with a round of hard-boiled white of egg and a small, thin pimiento. Serve hot.

Haddock Creams, Cold. Mask the inside of a number of small molds with a thin layer of aspic and decorate each with a few parsley leaves. Put half a smoked haddock in the oven with a little butter on top and cook for about ten minutes. Next remove skin and bones and pound the fish in a mortar, then rub through a sieve and let the mixture cool. Melt about one-fourth ounce of gelatine previously soaked in one gill of tomato pulp.

White up half a pint of cream, when stiff enough add a tablespoonful of mayonnaise sauce and gradually stir in about a gill of aspic jelly. Strain the tomato sauce, etc., into this and stir gradually into the tomato pulp. Fill the prepared molds with this. Put them on ice or in a cold place to set. Turn out onto a cold dish, decorate with chopped aspic and small salad and serve.

Fish Salad. Free about half a pound or more of cold fish from skin and bones and separate the pieces into small flakes. Trim, wash, wipe and divide into small pieces a little lettuce, season it with salt and pepper. Next mix three tablespoonfuls of oil and about one large teaspoonful of vinegar, then pour this over the fish and blend carefully with the salad. Dish up in a pile on a deep china dish or salad bowl. Garnish the salad tastefully with hard-boiled egg cut into eighths or quarters, slices of green, slices of lemon and pickled beet-root and then serve.

The KITCHEN CABINET

AFFECTION is the only remedy for diseased souls and evil characters. How many souls have died in remorse who would have been saved had they encountered in their path a soul who pitied them, who loved them, and who simply told them so.

VEAL AS SUMMER FOOD.

Veal, at its best, is not especially high in food value, and if put on the market too young is liable to excite serious gastric disturbance, making it a dangerous food. Good veal may be known by its pinkish color and white fat; if the meat lacks color the animal has either been bled or was too young to kill.

A calf should be from six to eight weeks old before putting on the market.

Veal Loaf.—Chop three pounds of veal and a half pound of salt pork. Mix with two well beaten eggs, one cupful of crumbs, two teaspoonfuls of salt, a sprinkling of mace, pepper and allspice and a tablespoonful of onion juice. Mold in a small tin, ungreased and pour over it a beaten egg, and sprinkle with crumbs. Set in a moderate oven and bake two hours, basting with butter and water. Serve cold.

Veal Curry With Rice.—Cook until tender two pounds of veal cut from the neck; add a small sliced onion and cook with the meat. Cut the meat into small pieces and thicken the gravy with a tablespoonful of flour for each cup of liquid. Stir in three teaspoonfuls of curry powder and salt as needed. Serve in a border of cooked rice.

Veal Birds.—Cut thin slices of veal from the loin, pound to a fourth of an inch in thickness; trim the pieces two and a half by four inches. Chop the trimmings fine with a square inch of pork for each bird; add half as much cracker crumbs as of meat. Season with salt, pepper, thyme, onion, lemon and cayenne. Dredge with salt, pepper and flour, and cook a golden brown in butter. Half cover with cream and let them simmer until tender. The mixture of crumbs and meat is to be mixed with egg and spread on each piece, and then roll and skewer with toothpicks.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Refrigerator Hint—If green onions must be kept on the refrigerator they will not scent the food nearly as much as usual if they are placed in a glass of water instead of being rolled in paper.

Rug cleaner.—An ounce of mormon salt added to a pail of warm water is splendid for cleaning grease spots from oriental rugs.

Making Mint Sauce.—Hot vinegar instead of cold improves mint sauce. Just the tiniest pinch of sugar is very good also. An excellent four polish is made by mixing thoroughly 1 pint of linseed oil, 1 pint of cold tea, 2 ounces spirits of salts and the whites of 2 eggs. Use an old silk handkerchief to apply the polish.

THE TABLE. Broiled Calf's Liver.—Let it sear in hot water a few minutes to draw out the blood. Dry it, rub it with butter, and broil five minutes, turning it constantly. It should not be cooked until dry. When done, spread it with butter, and serve at once. Butter-milk Bread.—One pint of buttermilk, heated to scalding, while hot stir into it enough flour to make a tolerably thick batter; add a quarter of a cupful of yeast, and let it rise for five or six hours. If you set it over night you need not add the yeast, put in instead one tablespoonful of white sugar. In the morning stir into the sponge one tablespoonful of soda dissolved in hot water, a little salt and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Work in just enough flour to enable you to handle the dough comfortably. Knead well, make into loaves and let rise until light. This makes very white and whole-some bread.

Cabbage Salad.—Remove center from a solid white cabbage, leaving a shell. Shred center and mix it with a mayonnaise or cream dressing. Chill, fill cabbage shell and arrange on a thick bed of parsley. Garnish top of shell with chopped parsley.

Every Day Talks for Every Day People

BY FRANCIS JOYCE KENNEDY

How are your children spending their vacation? Are they resting and gaining in health and strength so they will return to school fit to take up the work that will be demanded of them? A child need not necessarily idle its days away to enjoy its vacation. In fact, a child is a child, moderately busy it is far happier. When school is in session the average child lives by system. It must be up in the morning at a certain time, so as to get on time at school. The responsibilities of doing each day's work as each day comes is realized and lived up to by every well trained child.

When vacation days arrive the child should be given to understand that in a special way these are its very own days. Days in which no strain or worry will be tolerated.

The mother who wants her children to benefit by their vacation (and that includes us all) will join in their work and play. Plan with your little ones as to how you will spend each day and you will be pleasantly surprised at the many little tasks they will perform willingly and well, so you will finish work when they do, and be able to spend your afternoons with them.

If we mothers half understood the generous, kind little hearts of our children we would save ourselves much unnecessary fussing and take the time to enjoy their friendship love and confidence.

The mother who calls on her little helpers to aid her with each day's work and then goes out with them is the wise mother, and is making a very good use of her time. When these wee ones are older the habit of work first and then play will have been formed and they will not balk or grumble when set at a task. We raise our children in idleness without system or responsibility then despair.

PRETTY FROCK OF GREEN TAFFETA

This pretty frock is made of green taffeta. The skirt is slightly flared in the front from under the circle, and is made with a seam in the back. The jacket is slashed on each side of the front, and it is in two parts, and the skirt part is attached to the body under the binding. The sleeve is in one with the body, and is finished at the lower part with a frill of the material. The neck is finished with a standing frill of taffeta which is bound on the edge with taffeta. The jacket is trimmed on each side of the front with buttons and loops of taffeta. The circle across the front of the jacket is of taffeta, and the front of the corsage showing underneath is of white chiffon.

Right Doing.

Practical duty enriches, the fancy and the heart, and action clears and deepens the affections. No one can have a true idea of right until he does it, any genuine reverence for it till he has done it often and with cost, any peace ineffable in it till he does it always and with alacrity.—J. Martineau.

AN A WOMAN do as she pleases in her youth and by the strength of her will, the force of her determination, avoid the consequences? Can she, by laborious secrecy and tireless evasion, make the world judge her as the world judges men and not as the world judges women? Can she—once and once only—step beyond the bounds fixed by Society and resolutely step back without a penalty?

This great problem of a Woman's Will Against the World is the problem of The Woman—a problem only shadowy in the play, become salient and challenging in the intense, arresting story which Mr. Terhune has based upon the powerful de Mille play produced with such great success by Belasco.

CARDINALS VERSUS DR. PEPPERS SUNDAY

Captain Hell and His Men Will Clash With Rockford's Best Baseball Nine—Close Contest Assured.

On Sunday afternoon, at the Driving park, the Cardinals will clash with one of the best semi-pro baseball nines in the country, known as Dr. Peppers organization, hailing from Rockford. This nine barely met defeat at the hands of the Van Patten Colts of Beloit, who have won and lost one game to the Cardinals. The Colts were lucky and won on an error, made by Rockford.

Crandall, star Milton twirler, will oppose either Murphy or Bank, who will twirl for Rockford. The Cardinals had a layoff last Sunday, and they expect to do great things this coming Sunday. If they win, it will class them among the best semi-pro teams in the nation are very fast, and their pitchers are usually given errorless support.

The local line-up will be the same as usual. Nehr will play first, Jimmy Stewart, second; Tom Butters, third; and Skelly Hell, short. Crandall and Wilson will probably compose the battery. The outfield will include Buck Berger, in the left garden; George Berger in right; and Crandall in center. In case Crandall blows up during the contest, "Arlight" Butters will be sent to the slab. It will be his first real workout since his release from Madison. His arm is fast healing up, and if he does twirl Sunday, there is liable to be some striking out batters on the Rockford nine. Crandall is pitching some ball this year, and he has an underhanded out, which is fooling the best of batters.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

THE WATERMELON.
(By Howard L. Rann.)

The watermelon is a thick-skinned species of fruit which is grown in the south and shipped north in the original package. A good watermelon consists of 5 cents' worth of filling and 35 cents' worth of rind. The latter is not, however, for after the watermelon has been emptied of its contents it is made up into delicious pickles, which are fed to guests who are too polite to refuse.

The watermelon sprang from the soil of Georgia. In the early days of the republic the drinking water of Georgia was in the hands of a few brewers, and the watermelon was invented as a substitute for the drive well. It fulfilled its mission nobly, and many a crowd Georgia has completely quenched its thirst by drinking three or four watermelons, including the seeds.

Watermelons are never permitted to ripen in the south, but are always shipped north as green, a state as possible. As a result, a northern man never knows, when he orders a watermelon over the phone, whether he is going to receive a pumpkin or a summer squash. In order to make sure that the melon has attained maturity, most people have it tapped with a long, spiral instrument, after which the grocer sends up an entirely different melon which has to be fed to the cow.

The only part of the watermelon that can be eaten without coming in contact with the seeds is the heart. It is also the only section that ever gets ripe north of Mason's and Dixon's line. The variety of watermelon most people have is very plentifully supplied with black seeds, which secrete themselves in out of the way places and cause the diner to hunt for them nervously with his tongue.

The minute you get a few feet away from the heart of a watermelon, you either run into the rind or bite eagerly into a non-elastic seed.

The home-grown watermelon of the north is a melancholy imitation of the real article, while a Georgia product, who has met the Georgia product face to face. However, it commands a ready sale in prohibition states.

EXPECT TO REMOVE HORATZ THIS WEEK

Milwaukee Officials Plan to Take Charge of Human "Mountain" Who Weighs Over 350 Pounds.

Superintendent D. M. Barlass of the county asylum and poor farm has received word from Poor Commissioner William Spindler of Milwaukee that he intended to remove Frank Horatz, the "Human Mountain," from the Rock county hospital to Milwaukee sometime the latter part of this week. Horatz, who weighs some 350 pounds, was taken to the county hospital six weeks ago and has been there since, although he is a charge of Milwaukee county. Owing to his unusual size and the fact that he was unable to support himself on his feet, his removal was considered inadvisable.

Horatz' plight has been the subject for burlesque comment in the press, the latest Milwaukee dispatch being as follows:

Milwaukee poor officials have at last solved the problem of moving "Gibbalt." Frank Horatz, the 250 pound fugitive, who is wanted here on a charge of abandonment, but who could not be returned from Janesville, Wis., because his legs were too weak to bear up the weight of his body and because Janesville officials refused to permit a derrick to be used in loading the man on the cars.

Commissioner William Spindler has decided to send a reinforced ambulance on the 142 mile trip and has made arrangements to have a slide made so that "Gibbalt" can be laid down a chute from the second floor of the Janesville asylum into the ambulance. It is also planned to pack the fugitive in excelsior so that the movement of his body will not wreck the ambulance.

Horatz has been held at Janesville several months with the hope that the strength of his legs would return and that he might be brought here on the train. But the recovery did not materialize and the board bill of the wanted man is said to have reached such an amount that the local officials decided to have him brought back here at any cost before his normal appetite returns.

Mr. and Mrs. Froh and Carl expect to leave on Tuesday for a two weeks' visit with relatives in Howard, South Dakota.

Another Large Crowd Enjoys Band Concert

There was a large crowd on hand last evening to enjoy the concert given by the Moose band at the Corn Exchange square. The various numbers on the program were well selected and the execution was very good. Several of the popular song hits added spirit to the entertainment.

Seized by an Eagle

A huge eagle swooped down on the home of a Westport, Conn., man a few days ago and seized Anna, his two-year-old daughter, in his talons and attempted to fly away with her. The screams of the child brought the father to the yard. The bird then dropped the little one, and the father seized her and ran into the house. The little girl's clothes were torn by the bird's talons, but she was not even scratched.

FINISHING TOUCHES ON THE CORN PLOT

Some Valuable Suggestions Relative to Corn Culture at This Critical Stage.

(By Noyes Raessler.)

There are several important things to do before laying up the corn field for good. All weeds should be removed at once, and a very shallow cultivation should take place. At this stage the corn will need every drop of moisture that is in the soil. The embryo ears are putting forth their silks to catch the pollen which falls from the tassels in great abundance when they grow up on healthy vigorous stalks.

Now if the stalk is not supplied with sufficient moisture it cannot supply enough pollen to fertilize all the embryo ears, and some small ears will result.

Nature provided the corn plant with many times the amount of pollen necessary to fertilize the ears that develop, but since the pollen is so abundant, it is only on the line powder ground, a large portion is sure to be wasted.

If the surplus stalks have not been taken out, now is the best chance to do it, and get any beneficial results. Good judgment must be used, so as to cut out the weaker ones and let the strong ones stand. Remember that three good stalks to the hill is as much as the best land can stand, and produce a good ear on each one.

Another point which does not affect the corn directly, but is nevertheless an indication of good farming, and that is to mow off all the weeds along the outside of the acre corn patch.

No matter how well a field of corn may be cared for, it is not complete until the weeds around the outside have been carefully trimmed off.

CHAUTAUQUA WEEK SHORT TIME AWAY

Get Your Season Ticket at Once if You Expect to Attend Any Part of Entertainment.

Janesville's Chautauqua, under the direction of the National Lincoln Chautauqua-System, will open a week from tomorrow, on August 1st. Persons who have not as yet secured their season tickets should take steps at once to procure them as they will be in big demand during the coming week.

The program as arranged will be a most excellent one consisting of afternoon and evening sessions. Following is a short sketch of two splendid entertainers who promise to be favorites:

Emerson Winters is an entertainer who makes good. He also makes you laugh—not once, but many times. His character sketches in "costume and musical monologues." These "talking songs" are presented in an original, cultured and refined manner. Many of the popular songs of the most successful song writers of the day are given in a novel and pleasing manner. As one editor well said: "There is nothing frosty about this Winters." Mr. Winters is one of the most popular entertainers in the lyricum world.

Carl Lindgren is endowed with a voice of rich quality and power. His repertoire consists of all the oratorios, and the standard and modern song classics. His authoritative interpretations of folk and art songs are of distinct interest on his programs. Mr. Lindgren has just returned from a successful concert and recital tour on the Pacific Coast, and sails in October for Paris, where he will study for Grand Opera.

Richmond

Richmond, July 23.—Harvesting has commenced and the barley is a light crop.

Emile Gage of Whitewater has been visiting relatives here. He and his wife and family of Millard, spent Sunday at the home of his brother.

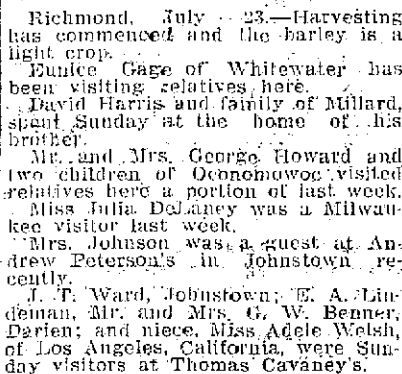

Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and two children of Oconomowoc visited relatives here a portion of last week.

Miss Julia Delaney was a Milwaukee visitor last week.

Mrs. Johnson was a guest at Andrew Peterson's in Johnston recently.

T. Ward, Johnston; E. A. Lindeman, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Benner, Darien; and niece, Miss Adele Welsh, of Los Angeles, California, were Sunday visitors at Thomas Cavaney's.

Where To Go in Summer

This question it would seem could be easily solved from the vast amount of attractive literature intended to appeal to the summer vacationist and traveler at the SUMMER TRAVEL BUREAU.

Michigan in Summer

Is termed the ideal vacation land and it would seem as if this were true, judging from the beautiful pictures of woods and streams illustrated in the booklet of the above title. The many resorts of this state are described and illustrated and the book is believed to be eagerly sought for by those planning a vacation in the northern woods.

For sale, one large double door safe, cheap. E. T. Fish, BOTH PHONES.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are any number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper, and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the appearing of such an advertisement.

NOTICE OF HEARING.

STATE OF WISCONSIN
COUNTY COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a regular term of the County Court to be held in and for said County at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on the first Thursday, to-wit: the 29th day of September, 1913, at nine o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:
The application of O. A. Peterson of Ottumwa, Wisconsin, for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of Ed. Erickson, late of the City of Beloit in said County deceased.
Dated July 16th, 1913.
By the Court,
J. W. SALE, County Judge.
E. H. Peterson, Attorney.

OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Street Assessment Notice.
Published by the authority of the Mayor and Council of the City of Janesville, Office of the City Clerk, Janesville, Wisconsin, July 24, 1913.
To whom it may concern:
Notice is hereby given that the final reports of the Board of Public Works on improving South Division Street from E. Milwaukee Street to Court by paving with brick, and from Court to the Carriageon Avenue to Oakland Avenue by paving with asphalt macadam, and Garfield Avenue from Clark Street to Carriageon Street and Vista Avenue north from Garfield Avenue to Logan Street by macadamizing and otherwise improving the expense of the real estate to be benefited thereby, were filed in my office on the 23rd day of July, 1913, and that the Council of the City of Janesville at a regular meeting thereof to be held in the Council Chamber in said City on the 1st day of August, 1913, at 2:30 p. m., will consider said reports and hear all objections which may be made thereto, and determine what portion of the cost of the improvement, if any, shall be paid by the city, and by whom.

J. P. HAMMARLUND, City Clerk.

Fewer Willing to Sell Their Hair.
Owing to the fact that the young countrymen of France, under the spreading influence of the cities, are becoming more particular as to the appearance of the girls they "walk out" with, peasant girls are becoming less and less willing to sell their rich tresses to hair dealers. At the great Limoges hair fair, held in the market place of the city, there were fewer dealers present than ever before. The supply of hair is falling and prices ranged from $1.50 to $1.85 a pound.

Just Boys.
"I inquired, once," says Mr. Arthur D. Dean in the "World's Work," of a group of teachers what they taught. One said "mathematics," another replied "English," still another, "science," but the fourth—God bless the little prophets—merely said, "Please, sir; just boys."

Sanitary Paper Towels

There is Economy as Well as Sanitation in Paper Towels

One housewife says she finds them of the greatest convenience in the kitchen for cleansing hands, wiping greasy pans, or for applying grease to the pans, saves you laundry work, they leave the skin like velvet.

Paper towels for factory, office, hotel, work room, or store—for every place where sanitation is an essential point, the paper towel complies with the ruling of the Industrial Commission. We have equipped a number of factories, stores and homes and would like to show you the high qualities of these towels.
